IMCO Technologies Partners with Trapollo, LLC

Pewaukee, WI, and Herndon, VA (March 3, 2011) – IMCO Technologies (IMCO), the provider of IMCO-STAT Critical Test Results Management (CTRM) software and Trapollo, LLC have agreed to a Marketing Partnership.

IMCO-STAT is a Critical Test Results Management (CTRM) solution that helps our clients meet Joint Commission Goal 2 requirements by providing fast, reliable, and secure communication between medical professionals. IMCO-STAT is capable of sending messages from Radiology, Laboratory, and other areas by means of secure text messaging, secure e-mail, and secure paging via a variety of cross-platform devices such as workstations, laptops, tablet PC's, PDAs, smart phones, BlackBerry, any UC platform, and other wireless devices. IMCO-STAT provides closed-loop reporting using automatic receipt confirmation and an events log to provide an audit trail. With messaging through IMCO-STAT, risks associated with failures in communication can be minimized, allowing facilities to provide the highest quality of patient care.

IMCO-STAT CTRM utilizes a flexible software design to tailor an effective CTRM solution for the workflow of each customer facility. Using IMCO-STAT CTRM will save radiologists time, ensure fast delivery and acceptance of alerts by physicians, provide result tracking and management reports. The new user interface ensures easy system navigation and the visually intuitive dashboard provides continuous, at-a-glance alert status updates.

Trapollo is a healthcare services company that bundles technologies products, consulting and supply chain solutions to help its customers deploy large scale telehealth programs. Trapollo's management team and extended network of healthcare technology and clinical partners have years of experience in managing large-scale, nationwide, telehealth and remote patient monitoring (RPM) programs.
